Click on the extension in the top right and make sure the settings are as follows

Now Let's Start

1. I'll send you a picture. Save it, then go to Google Chrome and upload it to Google Lens.

You can search using exact matches or visual matches. Start with exact matches, as they ensure the product in the picture is the same.

Once you're done with exact matches and need more photos, you can switch to visual matches. However, make sure it's the same product and color, as sometimes products may look very similar. Pay close attention to the smallest details. If there's multiple

After clicking on the exact matches, the websites will appear. While all websites are fine, but based on experience, the best ones are Amazon, Aliexpress, Alibaba, Walmart Shein, and DhGate.

Of course, you can also check other websites if you

To open the website, right click on the text and select Open link

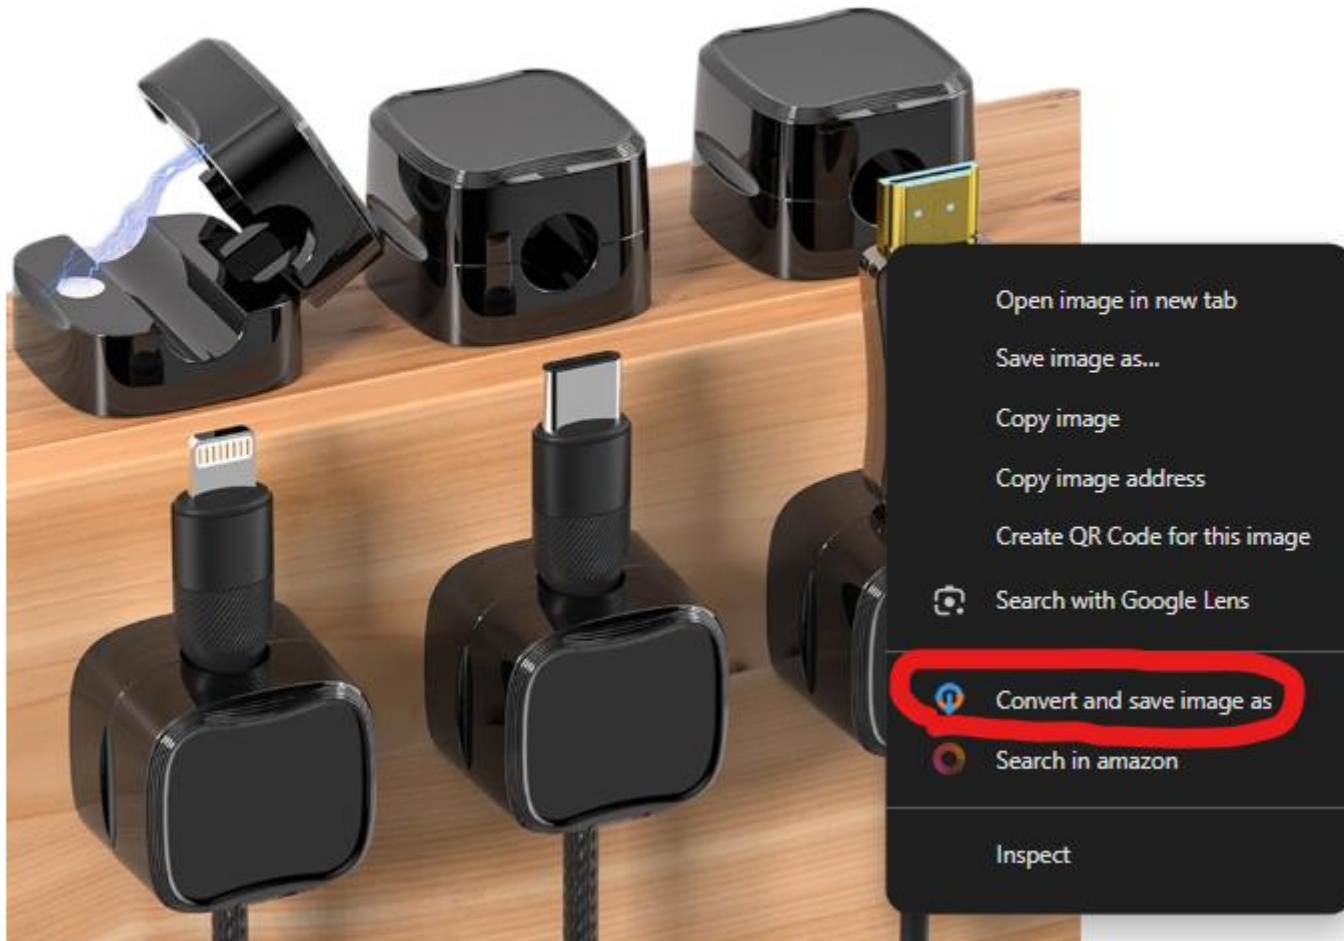

I usually prefer to open 15-20 tabs at once and then check them, as it's faster

if you're on Amazon, right click on the picture, select Convert and save image with the extension, and the photo will be downloaded to your laptop. x

BASEPOW 6 Pack Magnetic Cable Holder, Desk Cable Management Self-Adhesive Wire Holder Keeper Organizer, Cable Clips for Home, Office, Car, Desk, Nightstand...

On some websites like Shein and AliExpress, you can't right-click, and the extension won't appear. In that case, you need to open the developer tools in Chrome by pressing CTRL + SHIFT + C.

Notes

Please make sure that the images are high-quality, professional, and clear, providing a great visual experience for the customer.

Also, avoid downloading the same picture multiple times, as different websites may have the same images

Notes

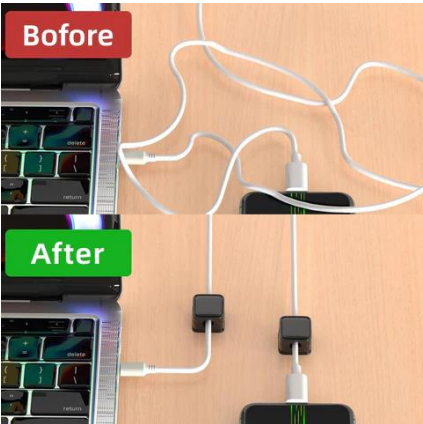

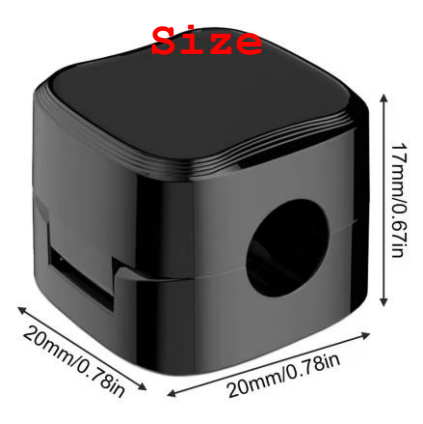

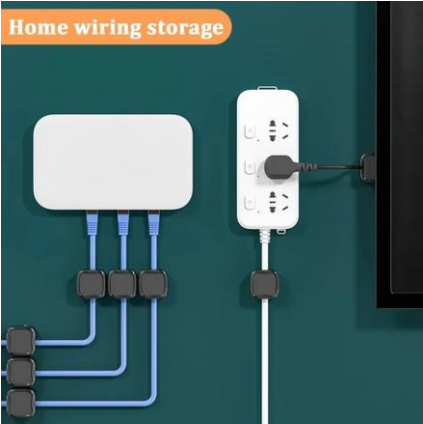

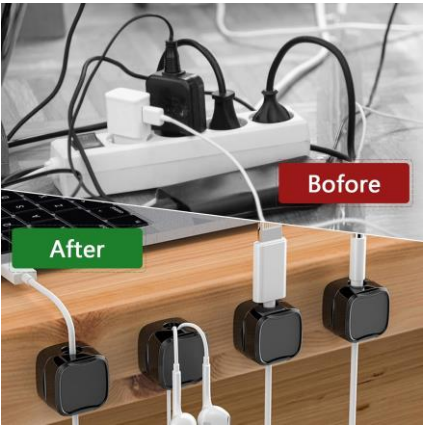

I need about 20 photos. It's preferable for the pictures to be square, but if there are others, that's fine too.

Out of the 20 photos, I need one that's very beautiful to use as the main image showcasing the product in use, and another one for size (if you find one). The rest should highlight the features of the product, such as how to use it, its waterproof ability, key features, etc. I will display 3 products in the next slides.
